FAST RETAILING CO., LTD.

UNIQLO opens its UNIQLO Soho New York store in New York's Soho shopping district on Friday, November 10, 2006. The 36,000sqft (3,300sqm) store space is a record for UNIQLO. And the store is set to become a global flagship exhibiting the very best of UNIQLO to the world at large.

UNIQLO lands in New York

The UNIQLO Soho New York global flagship store is opening its doors in the very heart of New York's Soho, the trendy shopping area sporting the world's top class brands. The 36,000sqft (3,300sqm) store space is a record for UNIQLO. And our store will be the second largest retail outlet in the whole of Soho in terms of floor space. UNIQLO Soho New York will exhibit the very best that UNIQLO has to offer in terms of products, VMD, service, etc. And, the store will exude the creative talent to best show off these exciting garments and merchandising. Challenge the world by showing the true UNIQLO at its very best. That is the motto we use for UNIQLO's global development. And our keyword is "aesthetic rationality". The creative talent behind this project is creative director Kashiwa Sato, interior designer Masamichi Katayama of Wonderwall Inc., art director Marcus Kiersztan, interface designer Yugo Nakamura, and DJ/music producer Tomoyuki Tanaka. This touchstone for our global development, this showcase to the world - our global flagship store opens at last.
